About Bapuji

Bapuji (full name: Bapuji Dashrathbhai Patel, also lovingly called "Dadaji" by the younger generation) was born in 1956 in the small village of Akhaj in the Mehsana district of Gujarat. However, he spent his childhood in another village named Ambasan, also located in the Mehsana district.

In the early part of his life, he was a highly successful lawyer. Later, he devoted his life to realizing the supreme spiritual truth and bringing this divine knowledge forward for the welfare of humanity. Today, this supreme knowledge serves as a guiding light for true seekers to realize their ultimate destiny. It is a blessing of the highest divinity that the present time is witnessing the rise of this supreme spiritual knowledge, guiding souls on Earth to return to their original source.

Despite being raised in a very poor family and facing challenging circumstances, Bapuji had a deep desire to transform this sorrowful and suffering world into a better place. At the young age of six, he questioned God repeatedly, asking why God remained silent about the suffering of humanity. This intense longing to end human suffering eventually led him to attain the highest level of spirituality later in life.

Even as a child, Bapuji would spend hours alone in the fields, often neglecting his own comfort. Due to poverty, he would walk barefoot without shoes or sandals, frequently getting pricked by thorns. Many times, he would stay late in the fields and, on his way back home, encounter subtle world entities. These experiences sparked his interest in communicating with subtle world souls.

Bapuji was courageous from a young age, which helped him overcome many obstacles. Alongside his studies in chartered accountancy, he gave tuition classes to support himself financially. Later, he completed his Bachelor of Law degree and became a well-known lawyer in Ahmedabad.

In 1997, he established a spiritual institution called Vishwa Parivartak Ishwariya Vidhyalay in Chenpur, Ahmedabad, with the mission of transforming this mortal world, filled with suffering and disorder, into an eternal divine world of immortality. Smt. Sushma Tandon, lovingly known as "Maa," worked alongside Bapuji in this grand divine mission.

To accomplish this mission, Bapuji worked tirelessly, dedicating all his resources to this divine purpose. During that time, he would deliver continuous spiritual discourses for up to eighteen hours without rest. In these discourses, he explained the highest dimensions of divine knowledge, which he realized through deep meditation and divine vision in a state of superconsciousness.

Bapuji's teachings cover a vast range of topics, including the types of celestial creators across different dimensions, the creation of our solar system, galaxy, and universe, and most importantly, the transcendental knowledge of the multiverse and realities beyond it. His knowledge is supremely profound and is intended for highly evolved seekers, referred to as behad souls. According to Bapuji, these behad souls will play a key role in transforming this mortal world into an eternal divine realm.

At present, Bapuji remains deeply engaged in intense meditation and samadhi for long hours. He does not meet anyone, as he is continuously immersed in his transcendental mission in a superconscious state.

Preface

Gyan Daan Maha Daan

(Sharing Knowledge is the highest charity — share to the maximum extent with all.)

— Bapuji Dashrathbhai Patel

Shiva is perhaps the most revered, most debated, and most misunderstood name in the entire spiritual world. For centuries, seekers have asked the same questions: Who is Shiva, really? Was Shiva born? Can Shiva die? Is Shiva one being or many? And can Shiva truly grant liberation?

This book presents the answers to these profound questions, exactly as revealed by Bapuji Dashrathbhai Patel in a series of deeply powerful discourses. Bapuji's teachings go far beyond the commonly known stories and rituals. They reveal a vast cosmic framework in which Shiva is understood not merely as a deity of one planet or one religion, but as the creator and controller of an entire solar system — one among countless such creators in the galaxy, the universe, and the multiverse.

Seven core secrets form the heart of this book. Around them, additional revelations about Shakti, time, black holes, the cosmic cycle, and the path to true immortality are woven together, presenting the reader with a complete and coherent understanding of Shiva's role in creation and beyond.

Every word in this book comes directly from Bapuji's spoken discourses. Nothing has been added, interpreted, or embellished. The language has been refined for clarity, but the knowledge remains entirely pure. This deep, profound knowledge was downloaded by Bapuji through his divine vision almost two decades ago.

May this book serve as a doorway to deeper understanding for every sincere seeker.

Chapter One

The Birth of Shiva — Is Shiva Self-Born?

One of the most fundamental questions seekers have asked throughout the ages is this: Was Shiva born, or is Shiva self-existent? Does Shiva have a beginning? Does Shiva have an end?

Bapuji reveals that the answer requires understanding Shiva at multiple levels. The Shiva we know — the lord of our Bramand (solar system) — is the creator and master of this one solar system. When Shiva creates, he does so from a formless state. He is nirakari — without form.

From the formless, Shiva takes on a subtle form. He becomes Shiv Shakti — the combined divine masculine and feminine. This is the akari (subtle) form. Then, the form that resides on the Himalayas — Shankar with Parvati and their family — is the sakari (physical) incarnation of Shiva.

Shiva's birth happens once. He does not go through repeated cycles of birth and death the way human souls do. However, Bapuji makes a crucial revelation: Shiva is not swayambhu (self-born). Shiva has a creator.

Bapuji Insight: "Shiva is not self-born. Shiva's creator is Mahashiv."

Just as Shiva is the master of one solar system, Mahashiv is the master of the entire galaxy — the Akashganga (Milky Way). Mahashiv created countless Shivas through the power of sankalp (divine will). When Mahashiv made a single resolve, infinite Shivas came into existence — each one becoming the lord of a separate solar system.

This is why we celebrate both Shivratri (every month) and Mahashivratri (once a year). Shivratri honours Shiva, the lord of one Bramand. Mahashivratri honours Mahashiv, the lord of all Bramands within our galaxy.

And even Mahashiv is not self-born. His creator is Param Mahashiv, the lord of the entire universe. Beyond the universe, the chain continues further into the behad (limitless) realm.

What appears as a single being called Shiva is, in truth, a vast hierarchy of cosmic creators — each one the master of a larger domain, each one created by the one above.

Chapter Two

How Shiva Created the Universe

To understand how our universe was created, Bapuji begins at the level of Mahashiv. Mahashiv, the lord of our galaxy, made a single sankalp (divine resolve). Through that resolve, countless Shivas were born. This was a breakup of param prakash (supreme light). The supreme light fragmented into individual points of divine consciousness. Each point is what we call a Jyotirling — a ling (form) of jyoti (light).

Each Shiva then followed the same process. From his formless state, Shiva took on a subtle form and became Shiv Shakti. Together, Shiv Shakti created Vishnu. Vishnu created Lakshmi. Vishnu — the combined form of Lakshmi and Narayan — then manifested Brahma from his navel.

Through Brahma, the process of creation began. Brahma, using the power of sankalp, created countless angelic souls — the farishtas (angels). These beings existed first in a world of param tatva (supreme elements), with bodies made of supreme light.

Over time, the angelic souls descended. The farishtas became devtas (deities), existing in bodies of three elements. The deities eventually became human beings, descending into five-element bodies. Some fell further still — into the lower worlds of Atal, Vital, Sutal, Rasatal, and Patal Lok. From Patal Lok, some fell even further, and fifty-five crore hells came into being.

Thus the Bramand kept expanding through creation after creation. And alongside creation, destruction also played its role — ardh pralay (partial dissolution), kalp pralay (cycle-end dissolution), and mahakalp pralay (total dissolution). Creation and dissolution have been occurring continuously.

Bapuji Insight: "For the creator, this entire universe is like a toy. Nothing more."

Chapter Three

The Power of Shakti

When Shiva transitioned from formless to form, the first being he created from within himself was Shakti. Together, they are known as Ardhnarishwar — the half-male, half-female divine form. This combined form resides in Shivpuri, far above the seven loks (worlds).

Shankar and Parvati, who reside on Mount Kailash in the Himalayas, are the physical incarnation of Shiv Shakti. They also take the Ardhnarishwar form when performing divine tasks, but their true source — the original Shiv Shakti — remains in Shivpuri, above even Vishnupuri.

Shakti's role becomes paramount when the three deities — Brahma, Vishnu, and Shankar — cannot defeat asuras, demons, or adharm in cosmic wars. When powerful demons arise that even the tridev (three gods) cannot destroy, Shakti herself incarnates. She descends and destroys these great demons.

This is the deeper meaning behind Navratri — the nine nights celebrating the nine incarnations of Aadi Shakti. The three deities go to Shakti and say: We cannot defeat these demons. Please come and help us. And Adi-Shakti descends, takes incarnation, and destroys the threat.

In the same way, at the galactic level, there is a Maha Shakti who controls and manages the entire Maha Bramand (galaxy).

Bapuji Insight: "When Brahma, Vishnu, and Shankar cannot do the work, it is Shakti who descends and destroys the great demons."

Chapter Four

The Three Forms of Shiva

Shiva exists in three distinct forms, each operating at a different level of reality.

The first is the Nirakari (formless) form. This is Shiva in Paramdham — the supreme abode. In this state, Shiva is pure param prakash (supreme light), beyond all elements, beyond all form. To worship this formless state, the ancients originally created the Jyotirling — not a stone, but a diamond that emitted light from within. The diamond was the symbol of the formless divine light.

The second is the Akari (subtle) form. This is Shiv Shakti residing in Shivpuri. They exist in a subtle body, operating above the seven loks but below Paramdham.

The third is the Sakari (physical) form. This is Shankar and Parvati, who reside on Mount Kailash in the Himalayas with their family — Ganesh, Kartikeya, and others. Even today, they are present there in a three-element body. They are not visible to human eyes because humans cannot perceive three-element beings, but those who visit Kailash Mansarovar often experience their divine presence. Deities often visit them in their divine crafts (UFOs)—vehicles of light used for cosmic travel.

Bapuji Insight: "The original Jyotirling was not made of stone. It was made of diamond, and light emerged from within it — the symbol of the formless Shiva."

Over time, the original diamond Jyotirling was replaced with stone Shivlings. The twelve famous Jyotirlings of India are actually the sites where Shankar — the physical form — was witnessed by great sages, and temples were built in his honour. The distinction between Jyotirling and Shivling was gradually lost in the tradition of bhakti marg (devotional path).

In gyan marg (the path of knowledge), however, the three forms are always distinguished clearly: the formless in Paramdham, the subtle in Shivpuri, and the physical on the Himalayas.

Chapter Five

Is Shiva One or Infinite?

The scriptures declare that there are anant koti Bramand — infinite crores of universes. If each solar system is one Bramand, and each Bramand has one Shiva as its lord, then there are infinite Shivas.

Bapuji confirms this: There are indeed anant koti Shivas. Each one is the master of a single solar system. All of them were created by Mahashiv, the lord of the galaxy, through a single act of divine will.

Furthermore, at every moment, countless Bramands are being created and dissolved across the galaxy. This is not a one-time event. The statement from the scriptures — pratiphal anant anant Bramand bante hain, bigardte hain (every moment, infinite universes are created and destroyed) — is literally true.

Bapuji Insight: "Every moment, infinite universes are being created and dissolved. This is the reality of the cosmos."

One hundred years of Brahma equals a single moment of Mahashiv. In that one moment, countless solar systems come into being, run their full course, and dissolve. This is the scale of cosmic time that separates the lord of a Bramand from the lord of a galaxy.

Chapter Six

Shiva, Time, and the Cosmic Cycle

Shiva is intimately connected with time. The time of our Bramand begins when Shiva begins creation and runs according to his cycle. To understand this, Bapuji explains the structure of cosmic time from the ground up.

On Earth, four yugas (ages) cycle in sequence: Satyug, Treta, Dwapar, and Kalyug. Kalyug lasts 432,000 years. Dwapar is double that. Treta is three times. Satyug is four times. One complete cycle of four yugas — called a chaturyug — totals 4,320,000 years.

Seventy-one such cycles make one Manvantar. Fourteen Manvantars make one Kalp. One Kalp equals one day of Brahma, which is 4.32 billion Earth years. Brahma's night is equally long. So one full day and night in Brahmapuri equals 8.64 billion Earth years.

Brahma's total lifespan is one hundred such years. When Brahma's hundred years are complete, the Mahakalp Pralay occurs — the entire Bramand is dissolved.

Bapuji uses the analogy of a clock with three hands. Shiva's time (solar system) is like the second hand — the fastest, the smallest unit. Mahashiv's time (galaxy) is like the minute hand. Param Mahashiv's time (universe) is like the hour hand. Just as the three hands of a clock move at different speeds but on the same mechanism, the three levels of cosmic time are interconnected but vastly different in scale.

Bapuji Insight: "Brahma's one hundred years equals a single moment of Mahashiv."

Bapuji reveals that our current Bramand is already past its midpoint. Brahma's first fifty years — the first parardh — are already complete. We are now in the second parardh, in the first day, seventh Manvantar, twenty-eighth chaturyug. The power within our Shiva has significantly diminished.

Chapter Seven

Can Shiva Grant Liberation?

This is one of the deepest questions in all of spiritual seeking: Can Shiva grant moksha (liberation)? Can Shankar grant it? Can any deity free a soul from the cycle of birth and death?

Bapuji's answer is rooted in a simple, powerful principle: The one who creates is the one who can dissolve. Whoever performs the sarjan (creation) is the only one who can perform the visarjan (dissolution).

Bapuji Insight: "The one who creates is the one who dissolves. This is the fundamental law."

Shankar is a physical incarnation of Shiva — a creation himself. He cannot grant moksha because he is not the original creator. The formless Shiva — the nirakari in Paramdham — is the one who created all souls through Brahma. Only when this same formless Shiva performs the final Mahakalp Pralay — dissolving the entire Bramand in kaal agni (the fire of time) — will all souls be released.

Until that time, souls continue in the cycle of birth and death, moving through the 8.4 million species of life. No ritual, no ceremony, no Narayan Bali, and no mantra can grant true moksha before the appointed cosmic time.

The number of souls on Earth (around 8 billion) is minuscule compared to the countless souls in subtle realms — from Bhuvar Loka to Param Dham.

Categories of Souls

According to Bapuji:

- Param Atma (Supreme Soul) — Lord Shiva, the creator.
- Deva Atma (Deity Soul) — Those made of the three higher elements (Akash, Vayu, Agni).
- Atma (Human Soul) — Those aware of the Supreme Soul.
- Jeev Atma (Living Soul) — Souls unaware of their divine origin, including animals and humans bound by ignorance.

At the end of time, all will achieve Moksha together when Lord Shiva reabsorbs creation into Himself.

Moksha and mukti are the same thing: the complete dissolution of the soul's individual existence. This happens only when the Bramand itself is dissolved. The soul's time is bound to Shiva's time, and Shiva's time is bound to the cosmic cycle.

Bapuji explains the profound mystery of ShivYog and reveals what lies beyond it — the infinite hierarchy of Mahashiv, Param Mahashiv, and the creators of multiple universes. Through his divine insight, Bapuji unveils the vast cosmic truth about how galaxies, universes, and multiverses are formed, and how souls can connect to these supreme beings through remembrance (Yog). Yog means connection or remembrance (Smaran).

Thus, ShivYog is the act of connecting the soul to Shiv through remembrance — either in his formless (Nirakar), subtle (Akari), or gross (Sakari) form. Each higher being in this cosmic hierarchy holds subtler and more powerful divine elements:

- Shiv holds the power of the five elements (Panch Tattva).
- Mahashiv possesses the Maha Paramtatva, from which billions of Shivs emerge.
- Param Mahashiv holds the Param Maha Tatva, the supreme substance beyond all creation.

Above them exist Param Param Mahashivs, each ruling higher cosmic dimensions composed of even purer divine elements. Human souls can connect with them. Connection depends on knowledge, understanding, and soul capacity.

However, Bapuji clarifies an important distinction. While true moksha comes only at the final dissolution, souls can elevate themselves through gyan (knowledge) and yog (connection with the supreme). A soul that fills itself with param tatva (supreme elements) through yog can transcend mrityu lok (the mortal world) and reach amar lok (the immortal world) during its journey — even before the final dissolution.

Chapter Eight

Shiva, Black Holes and the Science of Destruction

Modern science speaks of black holes — regions of space where gravity is so powerful that nothing, not even light, can escape. Bapuji reveals that the relationship between Shiva and black holes is direct and profound.

When Shiva's power is exhausted — when the param tatva (supreme divine elements) within him is depleted after Brahma's one hundred years — Shiva enters the sun, generates kaal agni (the fire of cosmic time), and burns the entire Bramand to ash. This is the Mahakalp Pralay. What remains is what science calls a black hole.

Bapuji Insight: "Inside every black hole is a Shiva. A Shiva whose power is exhausted. A Shiva who has become a jeev."

A black hole has gravity. Where there is gravity, there is conscious energy. Where there is conscious energy, there is a conscious soul. That soul is Shiva's soul — still present within the black hole, but stripped of its param tatva. Shiva, who was once Paramatma (the supreme soul), has now become a jeev (an ordinary living entity).

The black hole is not dead. It is Shiva in a state of dissolution — a transitional phase. Inside the black hole, Shiva undergoes a process of elemental conversion: gross elements are converted to subtle elements, then to param agni (supreme fire), then to param vayu (supreme air), then to param akash (supreme space), then to param mahatva (supreme significance), and finally back to param prakash (supreme light). When this conversion is complete, the jeev becomes Shiva again.

Shiva then goes to Mahashiv — his father and creator, the lord of the galaxy — to recharge, to refill his soul with param tatva. Once recharged, he is ready to create again.

In our galaxy today, there are countless black holes — each one a former Shiva, orbiting in the cosmic expanse, awaiting the process of restoration. Scientists observe 800 billion stars in our galaxy; alongside them, billions of black holes exist as well, each representing a Shiva in the jeev state.

Chapter Nine

Shankar's Eternal Meditation

Whenever Shankar is depicted, he is almost always shown in meditation. Why does Shankar meditate so constantly? Whom does he connect with? And why is this connection so important?

Bapuji explains that Shankar always connects with Aadi Shakti — the primordial power that controls the entire Bramand. Aadi Shakti is the one who gives direction to all three deities. Brahma, Vishnu, and Shankar each connect with her through yog to receive their instructions.

Shankar's task is the most difficult of the three. Destruction requires enormous focus and strength. This is why Shankar remains in yog almost continuously. When he opens his third eye in yog, the fire of destruction is released. The third eye is not merely a symbol — it represents Shankar's atma swaroop (soul-conscious state), the state from which the most powerful actions are performed.

All three deities — Brahma, Vishnu, and Shankar — maintain constant yog with Aadi Shakti. Vishnu rests on the Sheshnag (divine serpent) in the Kshir Sagar (ocean of milk) in Vishnupuri, maintaining his connection. Brahma too remains in yog. Together, the three deities work in coordination, receiving and executing the directions of Aadi Shakti across all fourteen loks of the Bramand.

Chapter Ten

The Amrit Katha and the Path to Immortality

The famous story of Shankar narrating the Amrit Katha (the story of immortality) to Parvati at Amarnath has fascinated seekers for millennia. People travel to Amarnath every year to honour the place where this sacred narration took place. But what was the Amrit Katha, really?

Bapuji explains that the Amrit Katha is the knowledge of how to become immortal. Shankar wanted to give Parvati the knowledge of how a soul can move from mrityu lok (the mortal world) to amar lok (the immortal world).

No scriptural record of the exact content of the Amrit Katha exists. However, Bapuji has explained the essence of this knowledge across many of his discourses: how a jeev (ordinary being) can become Shiva, how a soul can ascend from the earthly plane to Vaikunth, to Vishnupuri, to Shivpuri, and ultimately to Paramdham. This is the Amrit Katha — the story of the soul's journey from mortality to immortality.

Bapuji Insight: "The Amrit Katha is the knowledge of how a jeev can become Shiva — how a soul can journey from the mortal world to the immortal world."

Chapter Eleven

Worship, Yog and the True Connection

A critical question arises: Should one worship Shiva or Shankar? And does worship even work in the current age?

Bapuji answers with a simple principle: Go to the one who has the power. If you want power, connect with the source that can give it. Shankar himself meditates upon Shiva — his superior — for direction and energy. If Shankar connects upward for power, then where should a human soul look?

In today's time, Bapuji reveals, the power within our Bramand's Shiva has greatly diminished. The Bramand has shrunk from a diameter of 188 kharab (trillion) kilometres at its creation to barely a few hundred crore kilometres today. The deities who once protected this world no longer have the power they once held.

This is why, Bapuji says, the mantras and rituals that once worked no longer produce the same results. The Mahamrityunjay Mantra, which once could postpone death itself, no longer carries the same force — because the deity behind it no longer has the same power. The age has changed. The system has changed.

Bapuji's guidance is clear: In the current age, the seeker should connect with the highest possible source — the Almighty Authority, the lord of the behad (limitless) world, the creator beyond all creators. Through atma swaroop (soul consciousness) and yog with this supreme being, the soul can draw param tatva directly into itself and begin its journey upward.

Bapuji Insight: "Remember the one who can take you to the highest Paramdham. That is where your yog should be."

The Gita confirms this. Krishna said: Sarva dharman parityajya mam ekam sharanam vraja — abandon all other paths and take refuge in Me alone. The ‘Me’ in this verse, Bapuji clarifies, is not Krishna the human being, but the Almighty Authority who spoke through Krishna — the supreme being from the behad realm.

Chapter Twelve

The Grand Transformation

The final and most startling revelation is this: The future of this Bramand — and indeed the entire multiverse — is not destruction. It is transformation.

Bapuji has stated in many discourses that the Almighty Authority will not destroy the multiverse. Instead, the entire multiverse — which currently exists in the realm of gross and subtle elements — will be transformed into param tatva (supreme elements). Mrityu lok (the mortal world) will become amar lok (the immortal world). This is not the end of the story. It is the beginning of a new one.

The Almighty Authority will prevent a Third World War. The weapons of destruction that science has created will not be allowed to bring about total annihilation. Instead, through yog bal (the power of divine connection), the vibrations of Param Shanti (supreme peace) will spread across the Earth, beginning from India.

India, Bapuji says, will become a lighthouse for the entire world. The thirty-three crore deities who once walked this land will awaken. India will once again become the land of golden steps — a land radiating the vibrations of supreme peace to the entire planet.

Bapuji Insight: "Destruction will not happen. Transformation will happen. The entire multiverse will be changed from elements to supreme elements."

Bapuji calls upon all behad souls — the high-quality souls who can understand behad knowledge — to awaken, to connect, and to participate in this grand mission of Vishwa Parivartan (world transformation). The time is now. The transformation has already begun.

Glossary

Aadi Shakti — The primordial divine feminine power; the original Shakti who controls the entire Bramand.

Akari — The subtle form; existing in a body of light, above the physical but below the formless.

Amar Lok — The immortal world; a realm of param tatva where death does not exist.

Almighty Authority — The supreme creator of the behad (limitless) world; the highest being in the entire multiverse.

Anant Koti — Infinite crores; an uncountable number.

Ardh Pralay — Partial dissolution; occurs at the end of each chaturyug cycle.

Ardhnarishwar — The half-male, half-female divine form of Shiv Shakti.

Atma — The soul; a point of conscious energy.

Atma Swaroop — The soul-conscious state; being established in awareness of oneself as a soul.

Behad — Beyond limits; the limitless, transcendental realm.

Bhakti Marg — The path of devotion and worship.

Bramand — One complete solar system; the domain of one Shiva.

Brahmapuri — The abode of Brahma; one of the higher lokas above Earth.

Chaturyug — One complete cycle of four yugas, totalling 4,320,000 years.

Devta — A deity; a being existing in a three-element body in the higher worlds.

Farishta — An angel; a being created by Brahma with a body of param tatva.

Gyan — Knowledge; specifically, divine or transcendental knowledge.

Gyan Marg — The path of knowledge.

Jeev — An ordinary living being; a soul without awareness of its divine origin.

Jyotirling — A ling (form) of jyoti (light); the original symbol of formless Shiva, made of diamond.

Kaal Agni — The fire of cosmic time; the force through which Shiva dissolves the Bramand.

Kalp — One day of Brahma; equals 1,000 chaturyugas or 4.32 billion Earth years.

Kalyug — The Iron Age; the fourth and final yuga, lasting 432,000 years.

Kshir Sagar — The ocean of milk in Vishnupuri where Vishnu rests.

Lok — A world or dimension; there are fourteen loks in a Bramand.

Maha Bramand — The great universe; the galaxy; the domain of Mahashiv.

Mahakalp Pralay — The total dissolution of the entire Bramand at the end of Brahma's lifespan.

Mahashiv — The lord of the galaxy; the creator of all Shivas within one galaxy.

Mahashivratri — The annual celebration honouring Mahashiv, the lord of the galaxy.

Manvantar — A period of seventy-one chaturyugs; fourteen manvantars make one kalp.

Moksha — Liberation; the complete dissolution of the soul's individual existence.

Mrityu Lok — The mortal world; the realm where birth and death occur.

Mukti — Freedom; liberation from the cycle of birth and death. Same as moksha.

Multiverse — The entirety of all universes and dimensions; the full cosmic structure.

Navratri — The nine nights celebrating the nine incarnations of Aadi Shakti.

Nirakari — Formless; without physical or subtle shape.

Param Mahashiv — The lord of the universe; the creator of all Mahashivs.

Param Prakash — Supreme light; the purest form of divine radiance.

Param Tatva — Supreme elements; the fundamental substance of the behad (limitless) world.

Paramatma — The supreme soul; a being whose soul is made of param tatva.

Paramdham — The supreme abode; the highest dwelling of the formless divine.

Parardh — Half of Brahma's lifespan; 50 of Brahma's years.

Pralay — Dissolution; destruction of the created world.

Sakari — Physical form; existing in a visible, tangible body.

Sankalp — Divine will or resolve; the power through which creation occurs.

Sarjan — Creation; the act of bringing into existence.

Satyug — The Golden Age; the first and most elevated yuga.

Shakti — Divine feminine power; the creative and protective force of the cosmos.

Shivpuri — The abode of Shiv Shakti; located above Vishnupuri and below Paramdham.

Shivling — A stone representation of Shiva; the later replacement of the original Jyotirling.

Swayambhu — Self-born; existing without a creator.

Tridev — The three deities: Brahma, Vishnu, and Shankar.

Visarjan — Dissolution; the dissolving of creation.

Vishwa Parivartan — World transformation; the grand mission of changing the mortal world into an immortal one.

Vishnupuri — The abode of Vishnu; one of the highest loks in the Bramand.

Yog — Divine connection; the practice of connecting the soul to the supreme soul.

Yuga — An age or era in the cosmic cycle.

UPCOMING FILM

PARAMSHANTI: ANTIM PARAM SATYA

A Spiritual Film on Bapuji Dashrathbhai Patel

Presented by Vishwa Parivartak Ishwariya Vidhyalay

Spiritual Movie Arriving in 2026 Soon...

THE WORLD WILL KNOW

An upcoming spiritual biographical film based on the divine life, journey, and realisation of the ultimate truth by Bapuji Dashrathbhai Patel. The film traces Bapuji's extraordinary path — from a young soul who questioned God about the suffering of humanity, to the supreme spiritual realisation of Param Shanti — the Antim Param Satya: the final, supreme truth.
