ABOUT BAPUJI

Bapuji (full name: Bapuji Dashrathbhai Patel, also lovingly called "Dadaji" by the younger generation) was born in 1956 in the small village of Akhaj in the Mehsana district of Gujarat. However, he spent his childhood in another village named Ambasan, also located in the Mehsana district.

In the early part of his life, he was a highly successful lawyer. Later, he devoted his life to realising the supreme spiritual truth and bringing this divine knowledge forward for the welfare of humanity. Today, this supreme knowledge serves as a guiding light for true seekers to realise their ultimate destiny. It is a blessing of the highest divinity that the present time is witnessing the rise of this supreme spiritual knowledge, guiding souls on Earth to return to their original source.

Despite being raised in a very poor family and facing challenging circumstances, Bapuji had a deep desire to transform this sorrowful and suffering world into a better place. At the young age of six, he questioned God repeatedly, asking why God remained silent about the suffering of humanity. This intense longing to end human suffering eventually led him to attain the highest level of spirituality later in life.

Even as a child, Bapuji would spend hours alone in the fields, often neglecting his own comfort. Due to poverty, he would walk barefoot without shoes or sandals, frequently getting pricked by thorns. Many times, he would stay late in the fields and, on his way back home, encounter subtle world entities. These experiences sparked his interest in communicating with subtle world souls.

Bapuji was courageous from a young age, which helped him overcome many obstacles. Alongside his studies in chartered accountancy (CA), he gave tuition classes to support himself financially. Later, he completed his Bachelor of Law (LLB) degree and became a well-known lawyer in Ahmedabad.

In 1997, he established a spiritual institution called "Vishwa Parivartak Ishwariya Vidhyalay" in Chenpur, Ahmedabad, with the mission of transforming this mortal world, filled with suffering and disorder, into an eternal divine world of immortality. Smt. Sushma Tandon, lovingly known as "Maa," worked alongside Bapuji in this grand divine mission.

To accomplish this mission, Bapuji worked tirelessly, dedicating all his resources to this divine purpose. During that time, he would deliver continuous spiritual discourses for up to 18 hours without rest. In these discourses, he explained the highest dimensions of divine knowledge, which he realised through deep meditation and divine vision in a state of superconsciousness. This knowledge goes beyond the imagination of the ordinary human mind.

Bapuji's teachings cover a vast range of topics, including the types of celestial creators across different dimensions, the creation of our solar system, galaxy, and universe, and most importantly, the transcendental knowledge of the multiverse and realities beyond it. His knowledge is supremely profound and is intended for highly evolved seekers, referred to as "behad souls." According to Bapuji, these "behad souls" will play a key role in transforming this mortal world into an eternal divine realm.

At present, Bapuji remains deeply engaged in intense meditation and samadhi for long hours. He does not meet anyone, as he is continuously immersed in his transcendental mission in a superconscious state.

PREFACE

Gyan Daan Maha Daan

*(Sharing Knowledge is the highest charity — share to the maximum extent with all.) — Bapuji
Dashrathbhai Patel*

The knowledge shared in this book does not come from textbooks, academic research, or intellectual study. It flows from the deepest states of samadhi (superconscious meditation) — from direct divine experience and communion with the Supreme Source.

This is Day 5 of the Behad Ka Param Gyan (Supreme Knowledge of the Infinite) series. In the first four Days, we explored the nature of the soul, the law of karma (cause and effect), the great cosmic time cycle, and the creation of a single brahmanda (solar system). Today, we take a vast leap — from one solar system to the infinite cosmos beyond.

Today's teaching reveals the structure of the galaxy, the universe, and the dimensions of creation that lie beyond our ordinary sight. You will learn about the Maha Brahmanda (the galaxy), the Param Maha Brahmanda (the universe), and the spiritual power — called kala — that sustains each level of creation.

◆ Bapuji Insight:

"Anantanant brahmand bante hain aur bigadte hain."

This knowledge is for every sincere seeker — regardless of age, background, or spiritual experience. Whether you are a student, a homemaker, or a working professional, these truths belong to you. They are part of your own forgotten story.

ABOUT THIS SERIES

This book is part of a 10-day spiritual journey designed to expand human consciousness beyond limits. Each day reveals deeper layers of truth, guiding the reader from self-awareness to universal understanding.

Based on the Divine Knowledge of

Bapuji Dashrathbhai Patel

This book is a structured presentation of spiritual knowledge shared through discourses.

HOW TO READ THIS BOOK

Read this book slowly. There is no hurry. Each chapter carries a truth that may take time to absorb. Pause after every chapter. Sit quietly. Let the knowledge settle within you like a seed settling into soil.

Reflect on each idea before moving to the next. Do not rush to finish — rush to understand.

If you are new to this series, please begin with Day 1. Each Day builds upon the previous one, and the full picture only emerges when the foundation is in place.

Approach this knowledge with an open heart, not with debate. This is not philosophy to argue — it is memory to awaken. Somewhere deep within, you already know these truths. This book simply helps you remember.

Many Hindi and Sanskrit terms appear throughout. Each is explained in parentheses the first time it appears. A complete Glossary is provided at the back for easy reference.

INTRODUCTION

From Solar Systems to Galaxies and Beyond

Day 1 explored who we truly are — that we are not bodies, but eternal souls, points of living light.

Day 2 revealed the law of karma — how every thought, word, and deed creates a consequence, and how these impressions travel with the soul across lifetimes.

Day 3 unveiled the kaal chakra (the cosmic time cycle) — the four great ages through which creation rises and falls.

Day 4 took us into the creation of a single brahmanda (solar system) — how Shiva, the supreme being of one solar system, brought forth the entire creation through divine intent.

Today, on Day 5, we step beyond the boundaries of our own solar system. We ask: Are there other earths like ours? How vast is our galaxy? What is the universe? And what power sustains this immeasurable creation?

The ancient scriptures declare: "Anantanant brahmanda bante hain aur bigardte hain" — infinite upon infinite solar systems are created and dissolved. Today, we begin to understand what this truly means.

This knowledge comes not from telescopes or laboratories alone. It flows from the dinya drishti (divine vision) of Bapuji — from direct spiritual seeing in the deepest states of samadhi. What science is only beginning to glimpse, Bapuji revealed years ago through inner sight.

Let us begin.

Chapter I

Are We Alone?

One of the deepest questions humanity has ever asked is this: Are there other earths like planets exist in this creation? Are there beings on other planets, living, breathing, wondering — just as we do?

According to behad (boundless) knowledge, the answer is clear. Yes — there are countless earth like planets called as exoplanets. Our brahmanda (solar system) is only the smallest unit in an unimaginably vast creation. And within every solar system, there is an earth.

Our solar system — what behad ka gyan (supreme knowledge of the infinite) calls a brahmanda — spans approximately one light year. It contains our sun, our planets, and our earth. But this is only one among infinite other Brahmand.

The nearest exoplanet to ours lies approximately 4.5 light years away, within the closest neighboring solar system. That parallel earth experiences a creation very similar to ours — the same elements, the same cosmic ages, and a life that mirrors our own.

This is not hypothesis. This is not speculation. This is what Bapuji has seen through dinva drishti (divine vision) — the inner divine vision that comes only through the deepest samadhi (superconscious meditation). No book taught this. No laboratory discovered it. The soul, in its purest state, can see what no telescope can reach.

◆ Bapuji Insight:

"There are infinite earths like ours — every solar system has its own earth."

Chapter II

The Brahmanda — The Smallest Unit

Before we can understand the galaxy or the universe, we must first understand the building block of all creation: the brahmanda (solar system).

In the language of behad ka gyan, a brahmanda is one complete solar system. It includes one sun, its planets, moons, asteroids, and the countless stars and celestial bodies that orbit within it. This is the smallest unit of cosmic creation.

Our brahmanda spans one light year. Within it, our earth sits — a tiny sphere in a vast cosmic dance. All the planets revolve around the sun because of its gravitational pull. They move within fixed boundaries, each on its own orbit, in perfect harmony.

Now imagine: there are not just hundreds or thousands of such solar systems — there are infinite. Our ancient scriptures state it simply: "Anantanant brahmanda bante hain aur bigardte hain" — infinite upon infinite solar systems are created and dissolved in cosmic cycles of creation and destruction. This single line holds within it a truth so vast that the mind struggles to grasp it.

Each brahmanda has its own Shiva — its own supreme being, its own creator and sustainer. Each has its own tridev (the divine trinity of Brahma, Vishnu, and Shankar). The pattern of creation repeats — endlessly.

◆ Bapuji Insight:

"Brahmand sabse chhoti ikai hai — ek saurmandal."

Chapter III

What Is Kala? — The Quality of Light

To understand the cosmos, we must understand a concept that has no easy parallel in modern science. It is called kala (the measure of spiritual power and luminous quality of soul).

Kala is not brightness in the physical sense. It is the quality of param prakash (supreme light) — the divine radiance that every soul and every creator carry within. Think of it as the wattage of a light bulb. A 10-watt bulb illuminates a small room. A 1,000-watt bulb lights up an entire stadium. The light is the same substance — but its power is different. In simple terms Kalaa is the creative power of soul which manifests these vast creation through affirmations.

In the same way, the creator of a single brahmada — Shiva — possesses between one and four kala of spiritual power. This is enough to create and sustain one solar system.

You may have heard that Krishna is described as solah kala sampurna — complete with sixteen kala. This means he possessed the fullness of divine power. Bapuji has explained that Krishna's power was, in truth, even beyond sixteen kala — because he was a direct incarnation form of the supreme reality beyond all limits.

As we move from brahmada to galaxy to universe, the kala increases. The creator's power determines the power of the creation. This is a simple but profound principle: as the creator is, so is the creation.

◆ Bapuji Insight:

"Jaisa creator hoga vaisi creation hogi."

"As the creator is, so shall the creation be."

Chapter IV

The Galaxy — Maha Brahmanda

Where do all these infinite solar systems exist? They orbit within a galaxy. In the language of behad ka gyan, a galaxy is called a Maha Brahmanda (the great cosmic system).

Our galaxy — the Milky Way, known in Sanskrit as Akashganga — is home to approximately 800 billion solar systems. Each of these solar systems is a complete brahmanda in its own right, with its own sun, its own earth, and its own living beings.

The Milky Way stretches across approximately 115,000 light years. To give you a sense of this vastness: light itself — the fastest thing known to science — would take 115,000 years to travel from one edge of our galaxy to the other.

The creator and sovereign of a galaxy is called Mahashiva (the Great Shiva). Just as Shiva governs one solar system, Mahashiva governs an entire galaxy — with all its billions of solar systems revolving within it.

The power of our galaxy's Mahashiva is approximately nine to ten kala. Compare this to the one to four kala of a single solar system's Shiva, and you begin to see the immense difference in spiritual power at each level of creation.

♦ Bapuji Insight:

Chapter V

The Structure of the Galaxy

Bapuji has revealed the inner structure of a galaxy through divya drishti (divine vision). At the very centre of every galaxy lies a point of supreme spiritual power — the Maha Paramdham (the great supreme abode).

Just as the Paramdham (supreme abode) sits at the heart of a single brahmanda, the Maha Paramdham sits at the heart of the galaxy. This is where Mahashiva resides in the formless, nirakari (incorporeal) state.

Around this central point, the galaxy is arranged in concentric layers — each with a specific function and a specific group of divine beings. In the first layer surrounding the centre, the akari (subtle form) of Mahashiva and Mahashakti (the great divine feminine power) reside.

Beyond this layer are 108 Mahashaktis — powerful divine forces that protect and maintain the galaxy. Beyond them are 16,000 Mahashaktis — a vast assembly of spiritual guardians.

Further outward, we find the realms of Maha Vishnu (the great sustainer), Maha Brahma (the great creator), and Maha Indra (the great celestial sovereign). Each has a defined role, a defined realm, and a defined responsibility — like departments in a perfectly organised divine government.

The outermost layer of the galaxy is surrounded by a field of anti-gravity. This protective barrier ensures that galaxies maintain a safe distance from one another. They do not collide. They cannot collide. The divine architecture prevents it.

♦ Bapuji Insight:

Chapter VI

The Andromeda Galaxy — Our Cosmic Neighbour

Our nearest neighbouring galaxy is the Andromeda Galaxy. Modern science estimates its diameter at approximately 172,000 light years. However, Bapuji — through divya drishti — has revealed that its true diameter is closer to 146,000 light years.

The Andromeda Galaxy is significantly larger than our Milky Way. While our galaxy contains approximately 800 billion solar systems, Andromeda holds approximately 3,000 billion — nearly four times as many. It is a vaster creation, governed by a more powerful creator.

The Mahashiva of the Andromeda Galaxy possesses twelve kala of spiritual power — compared to the nine or ten kala of our own galaxy's creator. A more powerful creator produces a more expansive creation. This is the universal principle.

Together, our Milky Way, Andromeda, and approximately 170 other galaxies form a cluster — a great family of galaxies. Each galaxy within this cluster has a similar structure, but each has a different level of kala. Their creation is similar, but their spiritual power varies.

Science speaks of galaxies in terms of stars and distances. Behad ka gyan speaks of galaxies in terms of spiritual power, divine governance, and the soul's journey. Both perspectives are true — but the spiritual perspective reveals what no telescope can ever show.

◆ Bapuji Insight:

"Andromeda galaxy ke creator Mahashiv mein baarah kala ki power hai."

Chapter VII

The Four Types of Galaxy Creation

Not all galaxies are created in the same way. Bapuji has described four distinct types of galaxy creation, each following a different divine pattern.

In the first type — which includes our own Milky Way — Mahashiva emerged from the formless state, created Mahashakti, and together they produced Maha Vishnu, who in turn produced Maha Brahma. Maha Brahma then brought forth countless Brahma beings — who each created individual solar systems. This is the complete chain of creation.

In the second type, Mahashiva created Maha Vishnu, who directly brought forth many Brahma beings without first producing Maha Brahma. The chain was shorter, but the creation still flourished.

In the third type, Mahashiva created Maha Vishnu — and stopped there. No Maha Brahma was produced at all. Such galaxies have a different internal structure and a different flow of life.

In the fourth type, Mahashiva first produced two souls, who expanded into twelve, who then created akari (subtle form) Shiva and Shakti pairs. From these pairs, Vishnu and Brahma were produced — cascading the creation downward from the highest level.

This variety in creation is one of the most remarkable revelations of behad ka gyan. It tells us that the divine intelligence does not follow one rigid formula. The creator adapts, varies, and expresses in multiple ways — yet the underlying purpose remains the same: the unfolding of life through divine will.

♦ Bapuji Insight:

"Alag-alag galaxy ki creation alag-alag tareeke se hui hai."

"Different galaxies have been created in different ways."

Chapter VIII

The Universe — Param Maha Brahmanda

Above the galaxy lies an even greater structure: the universe. In behad ka gyan, the universe is called the Param Maha Brahmanda (the supreme great cosmic system).

Just as a galaxy is a cluster of solar systems, the universe is a cluster of galaxies. Billions of galaxies — each containing billions of solar systems — revolve within one universe. The scale of creation expands at every level, like boxes within boxes within boxes.

According to modern science, our observable universe spans approximately 93 billion light years. But science also acknowledges that beyond this visible boundary lies an invisible universe — regions that our instruments cannot yet detect. The total universe, science estimates, extend to 156 billion light years or more i.e. NASA has taken photograph of 156 billion light years but only analysed 93 billion light years in computer.

The creator of the universe is called Param Mahashiva (the supreme great Shiva). He resides at the very centre of the Param Maha Brahmanda, in a realm called the Param Maha Paramdham (the supreme great abode).

The power of our universe's creator is sixteen kala. When this universe was first created, it was formed with the full radiance of sixteen kala — a state of immense spiritual luminosity and perfection.

♦ Bapuji Insight:

Chapter IX

The Decline of Power — From Sixteen to Zero

This is perhaps the most sobering revelation of today's teaching. The universe that was once radiant with sixteen kala of power has now declined to almost zero.

How did this happen? Through the very process of creation itself. When the creator creates, power flows from the source into the creation. Think of a powerhouse supplying electricity to an entire city. The powerhouse gives its energy to every bulb, every machine, every device. Over time, if the supply is not renewed, the powerhouse itself becomes drained.

In the same way, the creator of the universe — Param Mahashiva — poured his spiritual energy into every galaxy, every solar system, every soul. As the creation expanded and as ages passed, the power gradually diminished. The param prakash (supreme light) within every soul grew dimmer.

We were once beings of pure param prakash. We carried within us param tatva (supreme elements), param akash (supreme space), and the subtlest forms of divine energy. But as creation descended through layers — from the formless to the subtle, from the subtle to the five gross elements — our power was spent.

Today, the param prakash within us has reduced to a fraction so small it cannot be measured — less than 0.0000001 percent of our original luminosity. We have exhausted almost all our spiritual power through countless births and karma (actions and their consequences).

This is why the world around us feels dark. This is why suffering is so pervasive. The batteries of creation are nearly empty. But this is not the end of the story — it is the beginning of renewal.

◆ Bapuji Insight:

"The universe that was created with sixteen kala of power has today fallen to zero."

Chapter X

Dissolution and Renewal — The Cosmic Cycle

What happens when the power runs out? When the energy of a brahmanda is completely spent, it undergoes dissolution — what is called mabaa kalp pralaya (cosmic dissolution). The entire solar system folds back into itself, becoming what science calls a black hole.

When the power of a galaxy's Mabashiva is exhausted, a greater dissolution occurs — Mabakaal pralaya (the great dissolution of time). In this process, Mabashiva absorbs all the infinite solar systems back into himself.

But dissolution is never the final word. After dissolution comes renewal. The depleted creator returns to his own source — to a higher creator — to receive fresh power. Mabashiva turns to Param Mabashiva. Param Mabashiva turns to an even higher source. And creation begins again.

Sometimes, when a brahmanda's Shiva loses power but the galaxy still has energy, the Mabashiva above sends a fresh Shiva — a new divine being — to take charge and restore that solar system. Sometimes a fresh Brahma is sent from above to restart the creative process.

This is the eternal rhythm of creation: expansion and withdrawal, creation and dissolution, birth and rebirth — at every level, from a single soul to the entire cosmos.

♦ Bapuji Insight:

"Jab brahmand ki shakti khatm hoti hai to wo apne creator ke paas jaakar wapas power lekar creation shuru karta hai."

Chapter XI

Souls from Other Worlds

If there are infinite solar systems and infinite galaxies, then there must be souls from other worlds living among us. And indeed, behad ka gyan confirms this.

Bapuji has explained that within our galaxy — and even within our own solar system — there are souls who originally came from other galaxies, other universes, and even higher dimensions of creation. These souls carry within them a different quality of param prakash (supreme light). Their origin is different from ours.

In the Western world, some people undergo past-life regression — a process where, in a deep meditative or hypnotic state, they recall their previous lives. Some report having lived in entirely different galaxies. Others describe themselves as beings of light, not of flesh. These are the souls who have travelled here from other dimensions.

What people call "aliens" or extraterrestrial beings are, in the language of behad ka gyan, simply pararth atmayen — souls who have come from beyond our immediate world. They are not strange or frightening. They are fellow travellers in the vast cosmic journey.

The outermost layers of a galaxy contain souls that have arrived from elsewhere — from other galaxies, from the universe beyond. This is part of the divine design. Creation is not a closed system. Souls move, migrate, and journey across realms — always seeking their way back to their source.

◆ Bapuji Insight:

"Humare brahmand mein bahar ki galaxies se, bahar ke universe se log aaye hue hain."

"In our solar system, there are souls who have come from other galaxies and other universes."

Chapter XII

Why This Knowledge Matters

You may ask: Why should I care about galaxies and universes? How does this help me in my daily life?

The answer lies in understanding your own soul's journey. Your atma (soul) did not begin on this earth. It began in the highest realms of creation. Over countless cycles, it has descended — from the formless to the subtle, from the subtle to the physical, from the highest kala to the lowest.

When you practise yog (divine union with the Supreme) and dhyan (meditation), you are not merely relaxing your body or calming your mind. You are tracing the path back — ascending through the very realms that the soul once descended through. From the fourteen loka (realms) within a solar system, to the Paramdham above, to the galaxy, to the universe, and beyond.

To cross each level, you need power. To cross the boundary of a galaxy — which has gravity field strength of nine to ten kala of soul power — your own soul must possess at least that much spiritual power. Without it, you cannot pass through. You would dissolve, like a paper boat in a furnace.

This is why understanding creation is not academic. It is practical. It tells you exactly what you need to build within yourself. The meditation we practise is not merely for stress relief. It is soul-centred — focused on jivan mukti (liberation while living) and the return journey to the source.

◆ Bapuji Insight:

"Humara yog soul center ki or hai — jeevan mukti par focus hai."

Chapter XIII

The Cosmic Law — Same Rules, Different Scales

One of the most beautiful truths of behad ka gyan is this: the laws that govern a single brahmanda also govern the galaxy, the universe, and every dimension beyond. The ancient principle says: yatha brahmande tatha pinde — as in the cosmos, so in the individual.

The law of karma (action and consequence) operates at every level — not only on earth, but within the subtle realms of galaxies and universes. The divine beings who govern these vast creations are also bound by cosmic duty. They too must act, create, sustain, and eventually dissolve their worlds.

What changes across dimensions is not the law itself, but three things: time, matter, and energy. In higher galaxies, the elements are subtler. The kala is higher. The passage of time is different. What seems like a million years on earth may be only a single moment in the realms of Mahashiva.

To travel from one galaxy to another, one cannot use physical vehicles — no rocket, no spacecraft. Bapuji has described that between galaxies, there exist energy tunnels — what we might call wormholes. These are pathways of pure energy that connect one galaxy to another at the subtle level.

The soul that wishes to travel must possess the power of that dimension. Just as you need a fire suit to walk through fire, you need the corresponding kala to pass through each level of creation. This is why spiritual practice is not a hobby. It is preparation for the greatest journey a soul will ever undertake.

✦ Bapuji Insight:

"As in the cosmos, so in the individual — the same laws govern both."

Chapter XIV

The Stairway Home

Let us now see the entire structure clearly, like a stairway rising from the ground to the highest heaven.

At the bottom is the brahmanda — one solar system, spanning one light year. Within it are the fourteen loka (realms), the five elements, and the physical earth where we live today.

Above it is the Maha Brahmanda — the galaxy. Our Milky Way stretches across 115,000 light years and holds 800 billion solar systems. Its creator, Mahashiva, possesses nine to ten kala of power.

And above the universe? There are even greater dimensions — the multiverse and beyond — which we shall explore in the coming Days.

The soul's journey is to climb this stairway — step by step, kala by kala — until it reaches its original source. This is the meaning of jivan mukti (liberation while living). Not escape from the world, but the return of the soul to its infinite home.

We have descended through all these dimensions. Now, in this final age — this Kaliyuga (the age of darkness) — we must begin the journey back. The knowledge you are receiving today is not merely information. It is the map for your return.

♦ Bapuji Insight:

"Atma ki yatra keval is brahmand tak nahi rukti — wo galaxy, universe aur usse bhi upar jaati hai."

"The soul's journey does not stop at this solar system — it extends through galaxies, universes, and beyond."

WHAT WE HAVE UNDERSTOOD ON DAY 5

These are not theories. They are truths to carry forward.

- Our brahmada (solar system) is the smallest unit of cosmic creation, spanning one light year.
- There are infinite earths like ours — every solar system contains its own earth, with life similar to ours.
- The nearest parallel earth lies approximately 4.5 light years away, in the closest neighbouring brahmada.
- Kala is the measure of spiritual power — the quality of param prakash (supreme light) within a creator and a creation.
- A galaxy is called a Maha Brahmdada — our Milky Way contains approximately 800 billion solar systems, governed by Mahashiva.

- The galaxy's power ranges from eight to twelve kala, with our Milky Way's Mahashiva at nine to ten kala.
- At the centre of every galaxy lies the Maha Paramdham — the supreme abode of Mahashiva, surrounded by concentric layers of divine guardians.
- The universe — Param Maha Brahmanda — is a cluster of galaxies, created with sixteen kala of power by Param Mahashiva.
- The universe's power has declined from sixteen kala to nearly zero — the creator's energy has been spent through the process of creation itself.
- Dissolution — pralaya — is not destruction. It is the cosmic reset. After every dissolution, fresh power is received from a higher source and creation begins again.
- Souls from other galaxies and universes live among us — behad ka gyan calls them pararth atmayen (souls from beyond).
- The soul's journey does not end at this solar system. It extends through galaxies, universes, and dimensions beyond — a journey measured in kala and param prakash.

The journey continues.

SERIES CONTINUATION

This is Day 5 of a 10-Day Series.

Behad Ka Param Gyan — 10-Day Divine Knowledge Course

In Day 6, we will explore the creation of the universe in greater detail — how the Param Maha Brahmanda came into being, what lies beyond it, and how the soul's journey continues into the realm of the Great Universes. We will also begin to approach the multiverse — a dimension of creation that transcends even the universe.

The Creation of the Universe

BAPUJI INSIGHTS

The Infinite Cosmos

♦ Bapuji Insight:

"Anantanant brahmand bante hain aur bigadte hain."

♦ Bapuji Insight:

"There are infinite earths like ours — every solar system has its own earth."

♦ Bapuji Insight:

"Brahmand sabse chhoti ikai hai — ek saurmandal."

♦ Bapuji Insight:

"Jaisa creator hoga vaisi creation hogi."

"As the creator is, so shall the creation be."

♦ Bapuji Insight:

♦ Bapuji Insight:

♦ Bapuji Insight:

♦ Bapuji Insight:

♦ Bapuji Insight:

"Universe ko Behad ke gyaan mein Param Maha Brahmand kaha gaya hai."

♦ Bapuji Insight:

"The universe that was created with sixteen kala of power has today fallen to zero."

♦ Bapuji Insight:

"Jab brahmand ki shakti khatm hoti hai to wo apne creator ke paas jaakar wapas power lekar creation shuru karta hai."

♦ Bapuji Insight:

"In our solar system, there are souls who have come from other galaxies and other universes."

♦ Bapuji Insight:

"Humara yog soul center ki or hai — jeevan mukti par focus hai."

♦ Bapuji Insight:

"As in the cosmos, so in the individual — the same laws govern both."

✦ Bapuji Insight:

"Atma ki yatra keval is brahmand tak nahi rukti — wo galaxy, universe aur usse bhi upar jaati hai."

"The soul's journey does not stop at this solar system — it extends through galaxies, universes, and beyond."

GLOSSARY

Standard Glossary for the Behad Ka Param Gyan Series

Akari — The subtle form state of the soul — between the formless and the physical. It has no physical body, but exists in a refined, subtle energy form. At the galactic level, the akari forms are called Akari Mahashiva and Akari Mahashakti.

Akash Tatva — The Space Element — the subtlest of the five physical elements, associated with sound and infinite expansion.

Akashganga — The Milky Way galaxy — called Akashganga (river of the sky) in Sanskrit. In behad ka gyan, it is our Maha Brahmanda, containing approximately 800 billion solar systems.

Anti-Gravity — A repulsive force described in behad ka gyan as the protective barrier surrounding a galaxy, preventing collisions between neighbouring galaxies.

Atma — The soul — the true self. A point of pure consciousness that inhabits the body but is not the body.

Atma Bodh — Awakening of the soul to its own identity — the moment the soul remembers it is not the body.

Anyakt — The invisible subtle and supreme subtle world of creation — the dimensions beyond the physical five-element world.

Behad — Boundless, endless, infinite, and unlimited. Describes knowledge, souls, or realms that go beyond ordinary cosmic boundaries and cannot be understood with ordinary human consciousness.

Behad Gyan — The knowledge about the Supreme Father, the Almighty Authority, and His boundless infinite creation. This supreme knowledge is not written anywhere in any book — it is the knowledge about creation beyond the multiverse.

Behad ki Atma — Souls constituted of only param prakash and param maha tatva — very powerful souls from the highest dimensions of creation. They can be called behad souls.

Bhavatit — Beyond all feelings and emotions — a transcendent state where the soul exists beyond attachment, desire, and worldly sensation.

Brahmanda — A solar system — one complete cosmic system with one sun, spread over one light year of space. In behad ka gyan, this is the smallest unit of creation. There are infinite brahmandas.

Brahmapuri — The subtle realm or city of Brahma, associated with the creator aspect of the Divine.

Chaturyuga — A cycle of four ages — Satyuga, Treta Yuga, Dwapara Yuga, and Kaliyuga — completing one full cosmic round. This cycle repeats until Maha Kalpa Pralaya when the whole brahmanda perishes.

Devatas — Divine beings or celestial souls who inhabit the higher realms of creation.

Dharana — The stage when the soul, after regular diligent practice of behad gyan and yog, gradually transforms its sanskaras and true divinity of the soul emerges. The soul itself becomes the embodiment of knowledge.

Dhyan — Meditation — the practice of focusing the mind inward to connect with the soul and the Divine.

Divya Drishti — Divine vision — the inner spiritual sight that comes through deep samadhi, through which Bapuji perceives the subtle and cosmic worlds.

Had — Bounded; within limits. Describes souls, knowledge, or states confined within cosmic boundaries.

Had ki Atma — Common souls created at the lower level of a solar system, whose soul contains at most supreme ether elements but does not contain supreme light. These souls have very low power.

Gunatit — Beyond all three qualities of nature — satva (purity), rajo (passion), and tamo (ignorance). Also called nirgun. This is the pure soul-conscious state or incorporeal state of the soul.

Incarnation — A cell of a supreme soul or soul from a higher dimension, used to carry out specific work on earth. It has the energy of the supreme soul but less energy compared to a roop (clone).

Jivan Mukti — Liberation while living — freedom of the soul from all karmic accounts. The soul has complete knowledge about its creator and exists in a blissful state with its creator for eternity.

Jivatma — A soul currently living in body-consciousness — present in a physical body and often unaware of its divine nature.

Kaal Chakra — The Wheel of Time — the great cosmic cycle of ages through which all creation moves. The time cycle is different for different dimensions of creation.

Kala — The unit in which the power of supreme light (param prakash) in a creator is measured. For example, Shiva has 1 to 4 kala, Mahashiva has 8 to 12 kala, and Param Mahashiva has 16 to 20 kala. Greater the kala, the more powerful the creation.

Kaliyuga — The Age of Darkness — the fourth and current cosmic age, characterised by spiritual forgetfulness and material focus.

Karan Sharir — The causal body — the storehouse of the details of karmic accounts of a soul, composed of the ether element only. Cleansing the karan sharir is essential to control the mind.

Karma — Action and its consequence — the universal law that every thought, word, and deed creates a corresponding result.

Karmatit — The state where the soul has gained freedom from all karmic bondages and is beyond the law of any type of karmic accounts in any plane of creation.

Loka — A layer or dimension of creation inside a brahmanda, galaxy, or universe. In our brahmanda: Bhuloka (earth), then Bhuvarka, Swargaloka, Maharoka, Janaloka, and so on upward.

Maha Brahma — The Great Brahma — the creator being at the galactic level, responsible for producing countless Brahma beings for individual solar systems.

Maha Brahmada — Galaxy — a cluster of infinite brahmandas (solar systems) revolving within it. Our Milky Way galaxy contains approximately 800 billion solar systems.

Maha Paramdham — The Great Supreme Abode — the central point of a galaxy where Mahashiva resides in formless state. This is the incorporeal world of the galaxy.

Maha Vishnu — The Great Vishnu — the sustainer being at the galactic level, maintaining the order of the galaxy.

Mahakaal Pralaya — The Great Dissolution of Time — the dissolution of an entire galaxy when Mahashiva's power is exhausted. The age of a galaxy is 10,000 years of Mahashiva.

Mahashakti — The Great Divine Feminine Power — the cosmic feminine force at the galactic level. Incorporeal Shiva first creates Akari Shiva, who then creates Shakti as his counterpart. At the galactic level, they are Akari Mahashiva and Akari Mahashakti.

Mahashiva — The Great Shiva — the incorporeal creator and sovereign of a galaxy (Maha Brahmanda). Possesses eight to twelve kala of supreme divine light. One second of Mahashiva equals 100 years of Brahma.

Maya — The cosmic illusion — the veil that makes the soul forget its true divine nature and identify with the body and material world.

Moksha — Liberation — the stage when the soul no longer exists in creation. It dissolves into its creator.

Mukti — Freedom — the stage when the soul no longer exists in the creation and dissolves in its creator, ceasing to exist as a separate entity.

Multiverse — A dimension of creation much higher than that of a universe, containing infinite universes within it.

Nirakari — Formless — the soul's original, pure state, beyond body and mind. The highest state of the soul's being. All paramdhams are incorporeal worlds of creation.

Panch Tatva — The Five Elements — Earth, Water, Fire, Air, and Space (Akash) — that make up the physical world.

Param Maha Brahmanda — The Supreme Great Cosmic System — the universe. A cluster of galaxies, each containing billions of solar systems. Our visible universe occupies 156 billion light years of space.

Param Maha Paramdham — The Supreme Great Abode — the central point of the universe where Param Mahashiva resides in incorporeal form.

Param Maha Tatva — The Supreme Great Element — the energy or divine brilliance irradiated around the param prakash. Param tatva is created from param maha tatva, making it the highest energy level after param prakash.

Param Mahashiva — The Supreme Great Shiva — the incorporeal creator and sovereign of the universe (Param Maha Brahmanda). Possesses sixteen to twenty kala of supreme divine light.

Param Prakash — Supreme Divine Light — the energy or power of a soul in incorporeal form, measured in terms of kala. This is the state of pure soul consciousness.

Param Purush — The Akari (subtle form) of Shiva, Mahashiva, or any supreme creator in any dimension. The first creation of the incorporeal supreme soul, possessing maximum energy next to the incorporeal form. Also called Supreme Male Energy.

Param Shanti — Supreme Peace — the original state of the soul when it is initially created. The soul always seeks this state, establishing itself in its pure divine incorporeal state of supreme light.

Param Tatva — Supreme Element — subtler than the five physical elements; the building block of higher-dimensional existence. Created from param maha tatva.

Paramatma — The Supreme Soul — also known as Parmatma or Super Soul. Shiva is known as Paramatma. All those created of supreme elements become paramatmas or super souls.

Paramdham — The Supreme Abode — the topmost layer of a brahmanda where the whole creation exists in supreme divine light form. This is the incorporeal world where Shiva, the creator, resides.

Pararth Atmayen — Souls from beyond — souls that have come to our solar system or galaxy from other galaxies, universes, or higher dimensions of creation.

Pralaya — The process of dissolution of a creation — the great cosmic ending of a cycle, after which creation begins again.

Purusharth — Spiritual effort made by a human being to understand the inscrutable soul science through self-inquiry and through meditation.

Roop — A clone of a soul created by the supreme soul from its own energy through affirmation. It reduces the original power of the supreme soul.

Sakari — The physical form state — the soul dwelling in a physical body and identified with the material world.

Sanatan Dharm — The eternal religion — the one religion that has existed since the beginning of creation of this brahmada. It continues to exist and will exist in future. Hindu religion is also known as Adi Sanatan Dharm.

Samadhi — A deep state of superconscious meditation — where the mind becomes still and the soul connects directly with divine truth.

Sanskaras — The character of the soul — the record stored in its causal body. The mind of a soul works according to its sanskaras. Self-transformation begins by transforming one's character through imbibing behad gyan.

Sat-Chit-Ananda — Existence, Consciousness, Bliss — the three qualities that describe the soul's true, original nature.

Satyuga — The Age of Truth — the first and purest cosmic age, when souls are closest to their divine origin.

Seva — Selfless service — in behad gyan, the best form of service is to disseminate supreme knowledge of the self for the benevolence of souls. One can also serve by spreading vibrations of param shanti in the atmosphere.

Shastra — Hindu scripture where spiritual matters are discussed — the ancient texts that describe the history and spiritual truths of creation.

Shivapuri — The subtle realm or city of Shiva, totally created from supreme elements (param tatva). Great souls called param purush reside here in akari form.

Solah Kala Sampurna — Complete with sixteen kala — a description of supreme fullness of spiritual power, traditionally attributed to Krishna.

Treta Yuga — The Silver Age — the second cosmic age, when spiritual awareness begins to decline from the golden peak.

Tridev — The Divine Trinity — Brahma (creator), Vishnu (sustainer), and Shankar (transformer) — the three divine aspects governing a brahmanda.

Vikarm — Sin committed by the soul — negative karma that binds the soul further into the cycle of birth and death.

Vishnupuri — The subtle realm or city of Vishnu, also known as the causal world (Karan Jagat), associated with the sustainer aspect of the Divine.

Viveka — The power of discernment — the ability to distinguish the real from the unreal, the eternal from the temporary.

Vyakt — The visible five-element world of creation — the physical, material dimension that can be perceived with the senses.

Yog — Connection with the Almighty Authority — when a soul, after acquiring behad gyan, immerses in deep love for its creator and totally forgets the physical world. This stage of divine union is called yog.
