About Bapuji

Bapuji (full name: Bapuji Dashrathbhai Patel, also lovingly called “Dadaji” by the younger generation) was born in 1956 in the small village of Akhaj in the Mehsana district of Gujarat. However, he spent his childhood in another village named Ambasan, also located in the Mehsana district.

In the early part of his life, he was a highly successful lawyer. Later, he devoted his life to realizing the supreme spiritual truth and bringing this divine knowledge forward for the welfare of humanity. Today, this supreme knowledge serves as a guiding light for true seekers to realize their ultimate destiny. It is a blessing of the highest divinity that the present time is witnessing the rise of this supreme spiritual knowledge, guiding souls on Earth to return to their original source.

Despite being raised in a very poor family and facing challenging circumstances, Bapuji had a deep desire to transform this sorrowful and suffering world into a better place. At the young age of six, he questioned God repeatedly, asking why God remained silent about the suffering of humanity. This intense longing to end human suffering eventually led him to attain the highest level of spirituality later in life.

Even as a child, Bapuji would spend hours alone in the fields, often neglecting his own comfort. Due to poverty, he would walk barefoot without shoes or sandals, frequently getting pricked by thorns. Many times, he would stay late in the fields and, on his way back home, encounter subtle world entities. These experiences sparked his interest in communicating with subtle world souls.

Bapuji was courageous from a young age, which helped him overcome many obstacles. Alongside his studies in chartered accountancy (CA), he gave tuition classes to support himself financially. Later, he completed his Bachelor of Law (LLB) degree and became a well-known lawyer in Ahmedabad.

In 1997, he established a spiritual institution called “Vishwa Parivartak Ishwariya Vidhyalay” in Chenpur, Ahmedabad, with the mission of transforming this mortal world, filled with suffering and disorder, into an eternal divine world of immortality. Smt. Sushma Tandon, lovingly known as “Maa,” worked alongside Bapuji in this grand divine mission.

To accomplish this mission, Bapuji worked tirelessly, dedicating all his resources to this divine purpose. During that time, he would deliver continuous spiritual discourses for up to 18 hours without rest. In these discourses, he explained the highest dimensions of divine knowledge, which he realized through deep meditation and divine vision in a state of superconsciousness. This knowledge goes beyond the imagination of the ordinary human mind.

Bapuji’s teachings cover a vast range of topics, including the types of celestial creators across different dimensions, the creation of our solar system, galaxy, and universe, and most importantly, the transcendental knowledge of the multiverse and realities beyond it. His knowledge is supremely profound and is intended for highly evolved seekers, referred to as “behad souls.” According to Bapuji, these “behad souls” will play a key role in transforming this mortal world into an eternal divine realm.

At present, Bapuji remains deeply engaged in intense meditation and samadhi for long hours. He does not meet anyone, as he is continuously immersed in his transcendental mission in a superconscious state.

Preface

In today's world, the spiritual industry has grown into a vast marketplace. Past life regression, rebirth claims, and supernatural experiences attract millions of seekers, yet very few truly understand the deeper mechanics behind these phenomena.

This book presents Bapuji Dashrathbhai Patel's clear, unfiltered perspective on these subjects. With the authority of one who has realised the ultimate truth through deep meditation and superconscious experience, Bapuji explains what actually happens during past life regression, why some children remember previous births, and how the subtle world influences these experiences.

His teachings are not meant to dismiss genuine spiritual inquiry. Rather, they are offered as a guiding light so that seekers can distinguish truth from deception, and focus on what truly matters — living in the present, performing pure actions, and connecting with the Supreme.

May this knowledge serve all sincere seekers on the path of truth.

Chapter I

Why Some People Remember Past Lives

We hear stories — a child of five or seven years old travels to a distant place, recognises a house, identifies a wife and children from a supposed previous birth. Such cases appear on news channels and across the internet. But are these experiences genuine? And if so, what is the real cause behind them?

According to Bapuji, such cases are extremely rare. In a country of over a hundred and forty crore people, perhaps only four, five, or at most ten to twelve individuals experience such memories. These are not ordinary events. There are specific reasons behind them.

The Role of the Subtle Body

When a soul takes rebirth, a certain record from its previous existence remains stored in what is known as the karan sharir (causal body). This record gradually moves into the sukshma sharir (subtle body). In rare cases, particularly in young children, this record may surface naturally. However, Bapuji clarifies that this is not the primary cause.

The Influence of Subtle World Souls

Bapuji states that the main reason behind such memories is the influence of souls from the sukshma jagat (subtle world). These subtle world souls can exert a form of influence — similar to hypnosis — on the living person, causing past life memories to emerge.

Just as a hypnotist can take a person into their subconscious and bring out hidden memories, subtle world souls do the same through their own power. They project past life records into the conscious mind of the individual, causing them to recognise places, people, and events from a previous birth.

Why Do Subtle World Souls Do This?

Bapuji explains that these subtle world souls have a specific purpose. They want people in the physical world to believe in rebirth. By causing a child to accurately recall details of a past life — recognising family members, describing how they died, identifying their previous home — these souls create living evidence of reincarnation.

Their intent is that people should accept the reality of rebirth and understand that life does not end with the death of the physical body.

Bapuji's Conclusion

Bapuji is clear in his assessment. Having examined this matter deeply in a state of atma swaroop (soul-conscious awareness), he does not believe that a soul entering a new body made of the five elements can naturally recall past lives through its own power. The primary cause is the influence of subtle world souls who project these memories through a form of hypnosis.

♦ Insight: "From the spiritual perspective, a key reason behind past-life memories is the influence of subtle-world souls who can affect a living person and project such memories."

"Subtle-world souls hypnotise the living and project memories onto them."

Chapter II

The Practice of Past Life Regression

Past life regression has become a widespread practice. Practitioners claim to take people deep into their sukshma sharir (subtle body) to access memories of previous births. From Bapuji's spiritual perspective, the reality behind this practice is far more complex — and far more nuanced — than most people realise.

The Layers of the Subtle Body

The sukshma sharir has seven layers. Each layer contains different categories of stored records from previous lives. Most regression practitioners can only access the first two or three layers. Reaching the fourth, fifth, or sixth layer requires enormous effort and deep work in the subconscious mind. Very few, if any, can penetrate to the seventh layer where the most ancient records lie.

Beyond the subtle body lies the karan sharir (causal body), which holds the complete record of every birth the soul has ever taken. However, regression practitioners almost never reach this level.

The Interference of Negative Entities

Bapuji reveals a critical truth that most people are unaware of. When a person undergoes past life regression, they are accompanied into the subtle realm not only by the practitioner's guiding souls, but also by negative entities — bhoot pret (negative subtle world beings) — who are already attached to the person.

These entities do not leave during the regression process. No matter how much effort the practitioner makes, these beings remain seated within the person. And during the session, they begin to speak.

One entity may say one thing. Another may say something entirely different. They may speak freely, mixing truth with fabrication. The practitioner often cannot distinguish between what the person's own soul is revealing and what the attached entities are inventing.

Claims That Strain Credibility

Bapuji points out that some of the claims made during regression sessions strain credibility. People sometimes claim past-life identities of famous historical figures, royalty, or persons connected with divine incarnations. Such claims, Bapuji explains, often originate from tamo-pradhan (darkness-dominant) souls speaking through the regression, rather than from the seeker's own authentic record.

Bapuji asks a simple question: would a truly sato-pradhan (purity-dominant) soul — an elevated being — come down to participate in such activities? The souls involved in these phenomena are, from Bapuji's spiritual perspective, generally tamo-pradhan — souls characterised by darkness, ignorance, and attachment — and may therefore be limited in their ability to provide accurate, elevated information.

A Widespread Practice

Bapuji observes that past life regression has grown into a widespread practice. He notes parallels with other intermediary spiritual practices, where both the practitioner and the seeker may be influenced by attached subtle-world entities, often without awareness of it.

Bapuji cautions that a significant portion of what emerges during regression sessions may be inaccurate, mixed with fabrication, or distorted by the subtle-world entities involved. From his spiritual perspective, the average seeker has no reliable way to distinguish authentic memory from such distortions.

♦ Insight: "Past life regression has become a widespread practice. A significant portion of what emerges may be unreliable or distorted."

Past Life Regression · Bapuji Dashrathbhai Patel

"Much of what surfaces in regression is filtered through entities, not pure soul memory."

Chapter III

How Regression Actually Works

For those who conduct past life regression with genuine ability, Bapuji explains the actual mechanism behind the process.

The Practitioner's Power

A genuine regression practitioner possesses a certain level of atma shakti (soul power), often developed through practices of renunciation and austerity. Additionally, certain souls from the subtle world assist them in the regression process.

Accessing the Causal Body

The assisting souls help increase the power of the person's soul and guide it towards the karan sharir (causal body). The causal body contains a complete record of every birth — from the very first incarnation to the present one. If a soul originally descended from the maha bramand (great universe), the causal body holds that record. If it came from the param bramand (supreme universe), that record exists in the param karan sharir (supreme causal body).

Everything is recorded — every action, every moment, every karmic account. If the soul is taken deep enough into the causal body, it can reveal where it originally came from and what it has experienced across all its births.

The Process of Recall

When the practitioner's guiding souls take the person's soul to the level of the karan sharir, the recorded information begins to emerge. The record moves from the causal body into the mind, and from the mind into the intellect, which then formulates speech. This entire process happens at great speed.

Sources of Error

However, Bapuji notes that variations and errors can occur. The speed of the process means that some details may get mixed up. If the soul has played a role during a particular era — say, during the time of Lord Krishna — it may accurately report that involvement, but the surrounding details may become confused.

Furthermore, souls from the bhakti marg (path of devotion) — those residing in Vishnu Puri or Shiv Puri — will describe their experiences according to the framework of devotion, which may differ from the objective record.

Bapuji's conclusion is practical: regardless of what is revealed through regression, a seeker should focus on the present and the future. The knowledge of past lives, whether accurate or not, serves little purpose compared to the work of spiritual transformation in this life.

♦ Insight: "The soul entering a body made of five elements cannot naturally recall past lives through its own power."

"Natural recall by an embodied soul is not the cause; outside influence is."

Chapter IV

Living in the Present

Bapuji's guidance on this subject is unequivocal: do not seek knowledge of past lives. Live in the present.

The Danger of Knowing

Bapuji shares a cautionary example. A young college professor had a strong desire to know her past life. Despite her guru advising against it, she persisted, using various methods of meditation and practice. Eventually, she succeeded in accessing her past life memory.

What she discovered was deeply unsettling. In her previous birth, she had lived under circumstances that, viewed from her present life, were extremely difficult to accept. The burden of this knowledge made it nearly impossible for her to live peacefully in her present life.

This, Bapuji explains, is precisely why one should never seek past life memories. The knowledge can be deeply disturbing and can destroy the peace of the present life.

♦ Insight: "If one comes to know certain truths of a past life, it can become very difficult to live peacefully in the present."

"Knowledge of certain past-life truths can shatter the peace of the present."

The Wisdom of the Present Moment

Bapuji draws from a teaching referenced in the Mahabharata. Sanjay told Dhritarashtra that the Supreme has deliberately designed the system so that beings cannot see the future. This is so that each person can perform their actions properly in the present moment. If someone knew the future, they would become trapped in anxiety and their ability to act rightly would be paralysed.

Bapuji clarifies that this was not a deliberate design by God but rather an automatic feature of how the system of creation works. Through the cycle of Brahma's creation, Vishnu's sustenance, and Shankar's transformation, this natural limitation exists to protect the soul.

The Path Forward

Instead of looking backward, Bapuji urges seekers to focus on the present. His teaching is clear: become atma swaroop (soul-conscious), remember the Supreme, perform pure and virtuous actions, and burn away past vikarm (negative karmic accounts).

In the gyan marg (path of knowledge), the teaching is simple: beeti so bindi — what has passed is finished. Even what you were thinking one second ago — let it go. Transform yourself in this very moment.

The mind changes constantly. As karmic bonds are settled and dissolved, the mind becomes free and fresh — like waking to a new day with new opportunities. This is the natural process of spiritual cleansing.

Bapuji's final guidance is expansive. Do not think only of yourself. Think of the transformation of the entire world. The mission is not personal liberation alone — it is world transformation. Every soul should aspire to know its true identity, its origin, and its Supreme Father, and then work towards the ultimate goal of returning to its eternal home.

As the Gita declares: become soul-conscious, remember the Supreme, and he will destroy all sins and ultimately take you to the highest divine abode.

♦ Insight: "beeti so bindi — what has passed is finished. Transform yourself in this very moment."

"Let the past go. Transformation lives in the present moment."

♦ Insight: "Do not think only of yourself. Think of the transformation of the entire world."

"The mission is world transformation, not personal liberation alone."

♦ Insight: "The Gita says: become soul-conscious, remember the Supreme, and He will destroy all your sins and take you to the highest divine abode."

"Soul-consciousness plus remembrance of the Supreme = the final destination."
