About Bapuji

Bapuji (full name: Bapuji Dashrathbhai Patel, also lovingly called Dadaji by the younger generation) was born in 1956 in the small village of Akhaj in the Mehsana district of Gujarat. However, he spent his childhood in another village named Ambasan, also located in the Mehsana district.

In the early part of his life, he was a highly successful lawyer. Later, he devoted his life to realizing the supreme spiritual truth and bringing this divine knowledge forward for the welfare of humanity. Today, this supreme knowledge serves as a guiding light for true seekers to realize their ultimate destiny. It is a blessing of the highest divinity that the present time is witnessing the rise of this supreme spiritual knowledge, guiding souls on Earth to return to their original source.

Despite being raised in a very poor family and facing challenging circumstances, Bapuji had a deep desire to transform this sorrowful and suffering world into a better place. At the young age of six, he questioned God repeatedly, asking why God remained silent about the suffering of humanity. This intense longing to end human suffering eventually led him to attain the highest level of spirituality later in life.

Even as a child, Bapuji would spend hours alone in the fields, often neglecting his own comfort. Due to poverty, he would walk barefoot without shoes or sandals, frequently getting pricked by thorns. Many times, he would stay late in the fields and, on his way back home, encounter subtle world entities. These experiences sparked his interest in communicating with subtle world souls.

Bapuji was courageous from a young age, which helped him overcome many obstacles. Alongside his studies in chartered accountancy (CA), he gave tuition classes to support himself financially. Later, he completed his Bachelor of Law (LLB) degree and became a well-known lawyer in Ahmedabad.

In 1997, he established a spiritual institution called Vishwa Parivartak Ishwariya Vidhyalay in Chenpur, Ahmedabad, with the mission of transforming this mortal world, filled with suffering and disorder, into an eternal divine world of immortality. Smt. Sushma Tandon, lovingly known as Maa, worked alongside Bapuji in this grand divine mission.

To accomplish this mission, Bapuji worked tirelessly, dedicating all his resources to this divine purpose. During that time, he would deliver continuous spiritual discourses for up to 18 hours without rest. In these discourses, he explained the highest dimensions of divine knowledge, which he realized through deep meditation and divine vision in a state of superconsciousness. This knowledge goes beyond the imagination of the ordinary human mind.

Bapuji's teachings cover a vast range of topics, including the types of celestial creators across different dimensions, the creation of our solar system, galaxy, and universe, and most importantly, the transcendental knowledge of the multiverse and realities beyond it. His knowledge is supremely profound and is intended for highly evolved seekers, referred to as behad souls. According to Bapuji, these behad souls will play a key role in transforming this mortal world into an eternal divine realm.

At present, Bapuji remains deeply engaged in intense meditation and samadhi for long hours. He does not meet anyone, as he is continuously immersed in his transcendental mission in a superconscious state.

Preface

“Gyan Daan Maha Daan” — Sharing knowledge is the highest charity. Share to maximum extent with all.

— Bapuji Dashrathbhai Patel

Human beings usually look at disease only at the level of the body. When pain appears, they search for a physical remedy. When the symptom improves, they feel the problem is over. But the deeper knowledge shared by Bapuji shows that this is only the outer layer of the story. Disease begins much earlier than it appears in the body. It begins in the inner state of the soul, in the mind, in thoughts, and in the causal body.

This book presents that knowledge in simple language. It explains why medicines often bring only temporary relief, why negative thoughts create inner damage, why the causal body carries records from many births, and why true healing requires more than physical treatment. It also shows the difference between ordinary healing and the higher healing that comes from divine power.

The purpose of this book is not merely to inform. It is to help the reader understand the root of suffering and discover the path toward inner strength, peace, and genuine transformation.

This book is based on a simple but profound truth: the body is not the starting point of disease. The starting point is much deeper. A thought creates a vibration. A repeated state of mind creates an impression. That impression settles in the causal body. From there it moves into the subtle body and finally appears in the physical body as illness, weakness, or disturbance.

Bapuji explains that doctors, medicines, surgery and physical therapies work at the surface level. They may help the gross body, but they do not remove the deeper record stored in the causal body. That is why many diseases return, change form, or continue in another birth if the root is not resolved.

The real cure requires a change in consciousness. The mind must become calm. The soul must become strong. The person must connect with the supreme source of divine power. Then the causal body starts charging, the subtle body becomes healthier, and the physical body receives the benefit as a result.

PART I

The Hidden Truth of Disease

Chapter 1

The Real Origin of Disease

Disease does not begin in the body. It begins in the causal body. Bapuji explains that every disease has a subtle record, and that record is first stored in the innermost layer of the human system. Only later does it travel into the subtle body and then become visible in the physical body.

This means that the body is not the real place where disease is born. The body is only the final stage where the hidden problem becomes visible. If one treats only the outer stage, the root remains untouched. That is why permanent healing requires knowledge of the inner system.

Understanding the Human System

According to Bapuji's explanation, the human being has three connected layers: the physical body, the subtle body and the causal body. The physical body is made of earth and water. The subtle body is connected with air and fire. The causal body is the deeper layer related to ether or space. These three together form the full five-element body.

Every layer affects the next. When the causal body is disturbed, the effect reaches the subtle body. When the subtle body is disturbed, the effect reaches the physical body. Therefore, what looks like a physical problem is often the last result of a much deeper inner disturbance.

Chapter 2

Why Modern Treatment Is Temporary

Medicines, surgery, and physical treatments can help the gross body. They can reduce pain, remove damaged tissue, or temporarily improve symptoms. But they do not erase the deeper cause stored in the causal body. That is why modern treatment often gives only temporary relief.

Bapuji's teaching makes an important distinction: medicine treats the physical body, blessings influence the subtle body, but the causal body can be cured only by divine light and soul power. This is why ordinary treatment alone cannot bring complete freedom from recurring disease.

PART II

The Root Cause

Chapter 3

The Real Cause: Mind and Thoughts

The real cause of disease is not only external. It begins with the mind. Thoughts create pressure in the inner system. Repeated sadness, fear, disappointment, worry and emotional disturbance leave a deeper mark in the causal body. Bapuji explains that when a person remains unhappy for long periods, that mental state records itself inside.

A single disturbing event may not create an obvious illness immediately. But repeated thinking, repeated emotional stress and repeated mental disturbance create a permanent impression. Over time, that impression becomes a cause that later appears as disease in the subtle and physical body.

This is why Bapuji repeatedly stresses the importance of not becoming overly emotional, not living in chronic sadness, and not choosing a life filled with stress. When the mind is peaceful, the inner body is protected. When the mind is unstable, the causal body keeps losing power.

Power of Thoughtless Silence

One of Bapuji's most powerful teachings is the importance of mental silence. He explains that soul energy is preserved when the mind becomes thoughtless.

Practical guidance includes:

- Speak less
- Live in solitude
- Avoid crowded places
- Maintain inner silence

According to Bapuji: "Antarmukhi sada sukhi" — one who turns inward always remains happy. When the mind becomes silent, Akash Tatva (ether element) increases, strengthening the causal body.

Chapter 4

Causal Body and Disease Recording

The causal body works like a deep recording system. Whatever is repeatedly thought, felt or done in action is stored there. Bapuji explains that karmic impressions, emotional wounds, and hidden disturbances all remain recorded in this layer. A problem that begins in one birth may continue into another because the record travels with the soul.

This is why some diseases do not come only from the present life. They are the result of many lifetimes of accumulated negative energy across many births. A heart problem, cancer, or other deep disorder may appear suddenly in the body, but its record already existed in the causal body long before the symptom became visible in the present lifetime. The causal body contains etheric cells that store karmic vibrations.

Bapuji also explains that if the causal body is damaged, the same weakness can return in the next birth. This is why physical treatment alone does not end the issue. The record remains, and the next body can inherit that defect unless the root is charged and transformed. This is why some diseases appear without obvious causes in the present life.

Bapuji advises that the first step in protecting the causal body is changing one's lifestyle. Key principles include:

- Avoid Emotional Disturbance: Repeated emotional suffering places pressure on the mind and damages the causal body.
- Avoid Stressful Living: A life filled with tension gradually weakens the mind and creates negative impressions.
- Remain Mentally Stable: Mental stability prevents further damage to the causal body.

Chapter 5

Depression, New World Problem

Bapuji explains that in today's world 70–80% of people suffer from depression because their desires and expectations are not fulfilled. When success, recognition or personal wishes are not achieved, the mind becomes disturbed. A depressed person repeatedly thinks about the same negative thoughts, and this continuous repetition strengthens negative energy within the mind. This negative thinking does not remain limited to the mind alone. It gradually increases emotional suffering and can even contribute to physical disease. Therefore, understanding the root cause of depression is essential.

The Root Cause of Depression

According to Bapuji, one of the major causes of depression is ego — the constant feeling of “me and mine.”

Human beings develop many desires such as:

- desire for name and fame
- desire for success
- desire for recognition
- desire for material comforts

When these desires are not fulfilled, the mind becomes restless and disappointed. Gradually the person falls into a state of sadness and mental disturbance. Therefore, Bapuji advises that true knowledge is necessary to overcome depression.

Freedom from Desire and Attachment

The first step toward mental freedom is to gradually withdraw from unnecessary desires. When a person constantly seeks approval, appreciation, or worldly success, the mind becomes dependent on external circumstances.

Bapuji advises:

- move away from the chase for name and fame
- reduce unnecessary desires
- free yourself from emotional attachment

This state of detachment is described in spiritual language as “Nashto Moha Smriti Labdha” — a state where attachment disappears and clarity of understanding arises.

Stop Reacting to Negative Words

Many times depression grows because people keep thinking about what others say about them. If someone speaks harshly or negatively, the mind repeatedly replays those words.

Bapuji explains that a truly knowledgeable person behaves differently. A wise person:

- sees without becoming disturbed
- hears without creating mental reactions

In other words, the mind does not create impressions from every external event.

Build Soul Consciousness

According to Bapuji, the real protection from depression comes from soul consciousness. When a person constantly remembers the Almighty Authority and lives a life of Karma Yoga, the awareness of the soul gradually becomes stronger.

In this state:

- the mind remains stable
- emotional disturbances decrease
- external negativity loses its influence

Even if a person hears criticism or negativity, no deep impression is formed in the mind.

PART III

Healing, Power, and the Supreme Source

Chapter 6

The Truth About Healing and Healers

Healing works by power transfer. But the quality of that power matters. Bapuji explains that many modern healers do not possess stable inner strength, so whatever they transfer is limited. Some may even transfer their own confusion, emotional imbalance, or negative energy. That is why healing is not automatically safe just because it is called healing.

Ancient sages and saints, according to Bapuji, healed from a very different source. They connected directly with the incorporeal Supreme Powerhouse and drew strength from there. Their healing was not based on personal ego or professional method. It came from deep meditation and supreme connection.

The True Method of Healing

According to Bapuji, true healing requires three steps:

1. Knowledge: Understanding the laws of karma and the structure of the soul.
2. Soul Consciousness: Realizing: “I am not the body. I am the soul.”
3. Connection with the Supreme Powerhouse: Through meditation and remembrance of the Almighty Authority, divine light enters the soul. This divine power gradually repairs the causal body.

Chapter 7

The Real Source of Healing Power

The ultimate source of healing is the Supreme Authority, the highest divine power beyond the visible world. Bapuji emphasizes that angels, subtle beings, deities, and ordinary human healers all have limited power. The real and infinite source is the Almighty Authority, the supreme powerhouse from which true divine light is received.

This is why he says that to heal the causal body, one must not depend only on outer help. One must turn inward, become soul-conscious, and connect with the supreme source. Only divine light can charge the causal body at the deepest level.

The State of Karmatit

The highest stage described by Bapuji is the Karmatit Awastha. In this state:

- the causal body becomes 100% charged
- all negative karmic impressions are burned
- the soul becomes extremely powerful

At this stage, the soul becomes free from the cycle of karmic suffering.

Chapter 8

Immunity, Energy, Environment and Inner Strength

Bapuji's teaching on immunity is very direct: when the mind is unhappy, the immunity of the body weakens. The mind must first become strong. If the mind is full of sadness, fear, or inner disturbance, the body cannot stay strong for long.

He explains that happiness, peace, remembrance of the Supreme, and daily spiritual connection help build inner strength. This is why the true protection of the body begins with the mind. A joyful and stable mind supports the subtle body, and the subtle body supports the physical body.

Energy and the Environment

Bapuji also points out that disease is connected with the environment. Negative atmosphere, polluted vibration, bad company, and emotional contamination affect the inner system. A person can absorb the state of the surrounding atmosphere just as the body absorbs the air it breathes.

This is why he advises careful company, calm surroundings, and a pure mental environment. A pure house, pure thoughts and pure remembrance create a healing field. Negative aura weakens the mind. Pure vibration strengthens it.

Chapter 9

Virus and Cure

Bapuji says microscopic organisms (referred to as “jumps” or subtle entities) are composed of the five elements (air, water, fire, earth, and space), similar to all living bodies. However, the difference lies in their negative vibrational quality, which allows them to enter a body and multiply rapidly, disturbing bodily systems.

It suggests that such harmful entities can enter through the nose, mouth, or other openings, affecting internal systems and weakening health. The text also expresses the idea that some viruses may be artificially created by combining toxic substances, and that historically similar harmful entities were believed to exist even in ancient Yugas (Satyug, Treta, Dwapar, Kalyug).

Bapuji emphasizes that a strong immune system and strong mind can resist harmful viruses. According to this spiritual perspective, peaceful and happy mental vibrations strengthen the body’s resistance.

Rather than focusing only on medicines, the discourse suggests cultivating inner strength through:

- happiness
- peace
- mental stability
- spiritual awareness

Soul Healing · Bapuji Dashrathbhai Patel

PART IV

The Complete Spiritual Cure

Chapter 10

The Complete Spiritual Cure

The complete cure is not merely the removal of symptoms. It is the charging of the soul with divine power. When the soul receives divine light, the causal body begins to charge. Then the subtle body improves, and the physical body starts to change as a result.

This process is not instant. It is a deeper inner journey. The person must live as soul consciousness, not as a body. They must remember the Supreme Source, stay in self-awareness, and allow divine power to enter the system. Then old negative records begin to burn away.

Pandava vs Kaurava Symbolism (Constructive vs Destructive Thinking)

Bapuji describes two groups:

- Destructive thinkers (Kauravas) — those spreading negative thoughts
- Protective or transformative thinkers (Pandavas) — those spreading peace and liberation

It suggests that currently destructive thinking dominates, and conscious effort is required to transform thoughts toward peace and liberation of souls.

Chapter 11

A Lifestyle of a Healthy Soul

To support healing, Bapuji recommends a life of calmness, less emotional disturbance, less unnecessary social pressure, and more inner silence. The soul becomes stronger when it stops constantly reacting. The mind becomes lighter when it learns to remain quiet.

He repeatedly emphasizes thoughtlessness, solitude, fewer unnecessary connections, and remembrance of the Supreme. A healthy soul does not live in constant agitation. It lives in awareness, inner cleanliness, and stable connection with the Supreme Powerhouse.

The Only Remedy: Inner Transformation

The core solution offered is spiritual practice focused on self-awareness and connection with the Divine. The recommended path includes:

- Self-reflection and introspection
- Remembrance of the Supreme (meditative connection)
- Cultivating love and inner power

Through these practices, the aura is described as becoming pure and radiant. A purified aura is believed to transform incoming negativity rather than absorbing it.

Detachment from Body Consciousness

A major teaching is the shift from body-centered identity to soul awareness. Key points include:

- Excessive attachment to the body creates fear and suffering.
- Focusing on the soul stabilizes the mind even during crises.

- True effort lies in purifying thoughts rather than trying to control external events.

This inner orientation is presented as the foundation for resilience.

The Role of Knowledge and Awareness

Spiritual knowledge — self-knowledge, understanding of time cycles, and awareness of karmic laws — is described as a stabilizing force. When a person understands the larger picture:

- Fear decreases
- Acceptance increases
- The mind remains calm even in adversity
- Aura becomes pure and white

Knowledge, therefore, is portrayed not merely as information but as a protective state of consciousness.

Soul Healing · Bapuji Dashrathbhai Patel

PART V

The Final Warning

Chapter 12

When Medicines Will Stop Working

Bapuji gives a very serious warning about the future. He explains that the coming time will bring extreme negativity in the atmosphere, polluted air, emotional breakdown, mental disturbance, and increasing disease burden. In that stage, ordinary medicines will not be enough because the mind itself will become deeply affected.

Atmosphere today is saturated with negativity — both physical and psychological.

- Pollution from petrol, diesel, and industrial activity is described as “poison in the air.”
- Alongside physical pollution, negative human thoughts are said to create a subtle psychological environment that people continuously absorb.

This combination affects the subtle body, which in turn influences the physical body. The teaching stresses a direct chain: Thoughts → Subtle body → Physical body

When the mind deteriorates, the body eventually follows. In such conditions, physical medicine alone is portrayed as insufficient because the root cause lies in consciousness.

He says that future conditions may become so severe that both mental and physical health will be disturbed at a mass level. In such a time, the only lasting support will be soul-consciousness, self-remembrance, divine connection, and inner spiritual power.

This chapter is not written to create fear. It is written to create readiness. The message is clear: prepare the mind now. Prepare the soul now. Build inner power now. Because when outer support weakens, only inner truth remains.

Creating an Atmosphere of Ultimate Peace

Bapuji repeatedly emphasizes cultivating and radiating vibrations of ultimate peace:

- Fill the mind, home, and environment with peaceful awareness.
- Maintain soul-consciousness while performing daily actions.
- Replace worry with quiet observation and inner stillness.

The idea is that inner peace is contagious — transforming both the individual and the surrounding atmosphere.

Whatever exists in the universe also exists within the body. The body is the microcosm. Therefore, we must transform our own inner universe. The entire universe must be filled and transformed with the vibrations of ultimate peace. Then the atmosphere will completely change. When the whole atmosphere changes, the soul will also experience peace. Otherwise, it will not.

Glossary

Causal Body · Karan Sharir — The deepest layer of the human system where karmic and mental records are stored. Disease begins here before it appears in the subtle or physical body.

Subtle Body · Sukshma Sharir — The inner energetic layer connected with air and fire, which carries impressions, emotions, and inner activity.

Physical Body · Sthul Sharir — The visible gross body made of earth and water. It is the final layer where disease becomes visible.

Param Prakash — Divine light or supreme spiritual energy. This is the power needed to charge the causal body.

Powerhouse — A term used for the Supreme Authority, the ultimate source of power and healing.

Aura — The subtle energetic field around a person. It is affected by thoughts, emotions, and inner state.

Karma Bandhan — Karmic bondage created by actions, thoughts, and relationships that bind the soul to repeated experiences.

Soul Consciousness — The state of remembering oneself as a soul rather than as a body. This is the foundation of spiritual healing.

Thoughtlessness — A calm inner state in which the mind is quiet and no longer disturbed by endless mental activity.

Vairagya — Detachment from body-consciousness and worldly disturbance. It helps the soul return to its original strength.

Immunity · Rog Pratikarak Shakti — The body's resistance power. Bapuji teaches that immunity begins in the mind and is strengthened by happiness and spiritual power.

Blessings · Dua — Positive influence or goodwill that can support the subtle body, though it is not enough for causal-body healing.

Medicines · Dawa — Physical treatments that can help the gross body temporarily, but do not remove the deep karmic record.

Karmatit Awastha — A state beyond karmic influence, when negativity is burned and the causal body becomes fully charged.

Antarmukhi Sada Sukhi — “One whose mind is turned inward is always happy / in bliss.” This Sanskrit phrase emphasizes that true, lasting happiness comes from internal reflection, spiritual grounding, or meditation, rather than seeking pleasure from external, worldly objects.

Akash Tatva — Ether element — the subtle space-element associated with the causal body.

Sharing Knowledge is the Highest Charity

— Bapuji Dashrathbhai Patel

True Healing Begins Beyond Medicine

This book explains that disease does not begin in the body, but in the deeper layers of the mind and causal system. It reveals why physical treatments often give only temporary relief and shows that true healing requires inner transformation, stability of mind, and connection with the Supreme source of power
